Ursula was fortunate to have had careers in both the private and municipal sector. She was hired by the Town of Clarkson in 2008 and used the skills acquired as a legal assistant to improve each Town office over the years that followed until her retirement in 2022. Ursula earned the respect of residents and coworkers alike, and with the encouragement of many, decided to run for Town Supervisor in 2023. Ursula was quite familiar with the operation of each Town office, and with the help of other experienced town employees, jumped in feet first when she was appointed to the position.

Ursula is looking forward to a second term and is committed to overseeing the completion of the many new projects well underway to enhance our Town.

Ursula and her husband, Danne, have lived in Clarkson since 2002. They have two sons, Steven and Marc, who also live in Clarkson with their families.
